

Flatdogs Camp where comfort meets nature in Zambia

Flatdogs Camp is an exceptional, yet affordable, safari camp right next to the world-renowned South Luangwa National Park in Zambia. The camp offers a unique mix of different accommodation to suit all budgets and types of guests.

The Crocodile Nest

The very special Crocodile Nest is a private two bed-roomed tented house with its own private pool, looking onto the Luangwa river, which comes with a private vehicle and guide for safari activities.

The Jackalberry Treehouse

The Jackalberry Treehouse is a totally different, but just as private, two bed-roomed, open-fronted reed & grass house built around four beautiful live Ebony trees. The Treehouse looks onto a waterhole which attracts game all through the dry season.

Both private "houses" suit people who would now like to be "away from other guests" in their own secure and private environment. In a similar way, our two bed-roomed chalet houses suit families perfectly as there are four stone walls and a gauzed veranda so the kids can walk around to their parents' room without having to go outside at night.

Safari Luxury Tents

The more traditional safari styled luxury tents are set in prime positions along the riverbank and have all you need for that perfect "Africa under canvas" experience – large gauze windows along the length of the tent so you can see the elephant browsing on the trees right above you and the hippo grazing just outside.

The standard tents are just as comfortable, just a little smaller than the luxury tents but they still have en-suite facilities, full beds and bedding and wrap around mosquito nets too.

For The Foodies

The food at Flatdogs is renowned in the safari world as the camp has an excellent a la carte restaurant serving a wide range of meals all through the day. This allows guests to come and eat or have their meals delivered (private houses only) when it suits them. The delicious range of options caters to all tastes and dietary requirements. There are separate gluten-free and vegan menus available.

Safaris from Flatdogs Camp

Safaris from Flatdogs Camp are led by expert guides who have studied all facets of the natural world they live and work in. Our guides must pass some of the most difficult examinations in the safari world before they can guide in the South Luangwa and safety of both the animals and guests is paramount.

The South Luangwa National Park is one of the few undisturbed natural wilderness areas left in Africa and one of the best Parks in which to view leopard. The guiding from camp is exceptional and the value for money found at Flatdogs unbeatable!
